NN

Lars Frank Nielsen

The NN system is a functional and aesthetically pleasing furnishing system consisting of wall panels and free-standing partitions, storage units and work-tables which can be combined in an infinite number of ways and for all kinds of interior design purposes – for offices, shops, hotels etc., and for the home.

NN not only meets functional requirements, but its clean lines and surfaces and its wide range of materials and colours mean that the system is great for creative interior designers to work with.
